JOB OVERVIEW

Fantastic opportunity to work with Sea Trust in Fishguard. We are a charity dedicated to marine wildlife conservation. We are looking for a friendly aquarium host with great communication skills and knowledge of UK marine wildlife. The role will involve talking to the aquarium visitors about our UK marine life and the work of Sea Trust, giving guided tours of our aquarium, front desk work and aquarium maintenance. It does involve working at weekends and bank holidays. The applicant must be capable of using initiative and be outgoing. You must also be practical, happy to work outdoors and willing to get your hands dirty, i.e. aquarium maintenance.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND KEY TASKS

Initially, the duties of the Aquarium Host will be:

- Guided tours of the aquarium for members of the public
- Speaking to aquarium visitors who enter the aquarium on a free-flow basis.
- Front of house, taking bookings, responding to general enquiries
- Aquarium maintenance and development
- Environmental education activities with schools and colleges
- General cleaning and admin duties

SKILLS, KNOWLEDGE & EXPERIENCE

- Good knowledge of British marine life.
- Experience working in a customer-facing environment.
- Friendly and hardworking.

- Excellent communication skills.
- Fun, dynamic, and friendly personality.
- Experience working with children.
- Available to work weekends and bank holidays.
- Ideally have experience in maintaining aquaria (not essential)

Job Benefits

- Flexible working.
- Pension.
- Local knowledge of animals and information.
- Transferable skills and experience, particularly for a career in marine biology or nature conservation.
- Staff Discount in Shop & Café.
- Work in a stunning location.
